

Education Sessions

Victorians

Set in the Victorian parlour of the Scratton home, discover what life was like for the Scratton family

Explore life at the time of Mr and Mrs Scratton, and their children; Dorothy, Peggy, "Tim Pieface McCarty", Humphrey, Geoffrey, and the "afterthought".

This session explores rich and poor in Victorian society and what was expected of children from different classes. Use is made of original objects from the collection together with the stunning room settings portrayed in the museum. During their visit, visitors will also learn about other aspects of Victorian life, including domestic life and service in a Victorian household.
